

Profile for Maggie Bush

Margaret Bush (Maggie) was born and raised in South Africa where her love of art and vibrant colour was fostered. Maggie completed a three year Diploma in Graphic Design and the Durban Technikon School of Art. Although Maggie did not start painting until 1995, her working years were spent as a Visual Merchandiser in leading fashion stores in Durban where her creativity furthered her artistic tendencies.

Maggie came to Australia with her husband and son in 1998 and joined the Peninsula Arts Society where she regularly enjoys painting in oil, acrylic and watercolour.

Her watercolour paintings, together with her love of textiles and vibrant colour has led her to combine all three in her current style of mixed media paintings. Maggie exhibits and sells her works at shows on the Mornington Peninsula.
